WHY DOES EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE MATTER?

Emotional Intelligence is a concept focused on how effectively people work with others. These Emotional Intelligence skills are unique from a person's technical skills and cognitive abilities. Multiple studies have shown that Emotional Intelligence competencies account for the difference between star performers and average performers, particularly in positions of leadership:

- An insurance company found the average policy sold by one group of agents is $54K, while another group sold policies with an average of $114K.
- The U.S. Air Force increased its ability to successfully predict recruiter success by three-fold and reduced recruiting expense by $3 million.
- A study of more than 500 executive search candidates identified emotional competence as a significantly better predictor of placement success than intelligence or prior experience. Findings were consistent in all countries and cultures.

EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE IMPROVES INDIVIDUAL AND ORGANIZATIONAL PERFORMANCE

Research has shown that Emotional Intelligence (EQ) improves performance in sales, leadership and recruiting. Just as important — EQ can be learned and developed. TRACOM's Developing Behavioral EQ[™] is a comprehensive one-day course for understanding EQ and putting these powerful skills to work. Participants will:

- Be aware of cognitive biases and how they affect their thinking and performance
- Identify the impact of Behavioral EQ on job performance
- Interpret the results of their Behavioral EQ Multi-Rater profiles
- Develop and practice strategies to improve their Behavioral EQ
- Create an action plan focused on developing their Behavioral EQ
